

Historical Papers Archive, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa, 2022

50 boxes, 4 folio folders

The collection contains the personal and working papers of Richard (Rick) Turner, a South African academic, educationist and theorist, who was murdered by the South African security forces in 1978. His killing was part of the public hearings at the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC), where members of the former security cluster were forced to testify.

The collection also contains the Fozzia Fisher-Turner papers, including material relating to the Institute for Industrial Education (IIE) papers, South African Labour Bulletin (SALB), diary on philosophy, and other material.

The papers were deposited by Rick Turner's second wife Fozzia Fisher-Turner, which was facilitated by Susanne Klausen. The archival collection was processed and described by Ruth Muller.
