

A320f Henderson, Col. G.F.R.

"The war in South Africa". Corrected galley and page proofs.

These original proofs are part of The Gubbins Library, a collection of Africana aquired by the Africana collector John Gaspard Gubbins, and later deposited at the Historical Papers Research Archive.

It is believed that these proofs are the result of Col. G.F.R. Henderson,s work on a book of the first British official history of the South African War (1899-1902), for which he was appointed in 1901. He died in early 1903 before completing the book. Henderson's work was never published, as the UK government at the time decided that his first draft chapters were too controversial to publish.

Archivist's notes:

The proofs and galleys are incomplete, and some are cut off at the bottom.
