TANTSI GRAVE IN NEW YORK

When Dr. W. F Nkomo attended M.R.A. World Assembly in America when Dr. W. F. Nkomo attended M.R.A. World Assembly in America recently he found time to lay a wreath on the grave of the late Ntombikaba Tantsi, who died in New York in 1941. She was the wife of the late Dr. J. Y. Tantsi. Dr. Nkomo says it was difficult to find the grave. But through the assistance of the A.M.E. Missionary Department in New York he was able to locate the grave and on behalf of the Tantsi family and South Africa lay the wreath shown in our photograph. With him are Mr. Ron Roberts of America and Rev. George Daniel of Pretoria.

The farmer who uses good farming methods increases the yield of his land many times growing more food for his family and good crops for the market. This comes when the soil is kept healthy by contour ploughing . . by properly rotating crops . . . and by building up fertility of the soil with "Kynoch" or "Capex" fertilizers.

PEACE and PROSPERITY in SWAZILAND

In 1906, two-thirds of Swaziland belonged to the Europeans and one-third to the Swazis,

Today, the Swazis own more than half the land in the territory — because the Africans have, with their own Lifa Fund, bought back a great deal of land. The Government has also contributed with its land settlement scheme—a reward to those Africans who served in World War II.

Especially since the war, Swaziland has made rapid progress.

Forestry is the most important development. The Usutu forests, comprising 86,000 acres of pine trees, will be fully planted by the end of next year. It will then be one of the largest man made forests in the world.

There are also giant forests in the Pigg's Peak district. The Swazis own

Great progress has been made with irrigation and soil conservation programmes and the Africans are beginning to realise the importance of improved methods of agriculture.

Swaziland also produces rice, cotton, mealies and totacco. Sugar-cane is soon to be planted as well.

Several factories have set up in the territory, most important being the Malkern's Canning Factory.

So fast is the country developing in both industry and agriculture, it is thought that in a few years time Swaziland will be able to absorb all its own

Paramount Chief Sobhuza at his house "Masundwini"—the place of palms—near Bremersdorp,

The home of the Paramount Chief is called Lozithehlezi. It is about 30 miles from Mbabane, the administrative capital.

Lobamba is 18 miles from Mbabane.

The capital is a charming little town, which is growing rapidly. Swazi families come in from miles around to sell their vegetables and other products, as well as the baskets and other handiwork for which they are noted.

In this market, tourists rub shoulders with Afri-cans doing their shopping.

Many visitors come to the territory in search of health. Their destination is the warm curative waters at Ezulwini, just outside Mbabane.

The Colonial Development Corporation plans to build a railway into the territory, to top the timber and other resources.

Four miles from the home of the Paramount Chief is the famous Swazi National School at Mathapha, over which the Paramount Chief has direct control. It is maintained chiefly out of Here's Beauty Mashaba! With her own idea about Beauty Treatment!

"USE TWO KARROO CREAMS!"

she says ...

"To get a beautiful light complexion," says Beauty. "Use Karroo Freckle Cream. Just rub it on to your face before you go to bed. Wash it off in the morning. After a few days, you'll see your skin looks lighter and clearer than before.

"Some people start with Karroo Strong, and when their face has become lighter, they use Karroo Medium. It depends on your skin. But one or other of the Karroo Creams will suit your complexion. Begin using Karroo Freckle Cream tonight.

"For the daytime, and for when you go out in the evening, use Karroo Matt Cream. It is made to use when you have used Karroo Freckle Cream. Your face won't be shiny if you use Karroo Matt Cream. It will look smooth and light.

Beauty's ready to make whoopee at a party! Hasn't she got a lovely light complexion? Her parents and friends knew what they were doing when they called her "Beauty." And she knows what is best for Beauty-the TWO Karroo Creams, Karroo Freckle and Karroo Matt.

Many of the best-known African lovelies use Karroo Creams to give them a light, clear complexion. They all say-you must use the TWO Karroo Creams-Karroo Matt Cream for the daytime and evening. Karroo Freckle Cream before you go to bed.

Saturday, February 26, 1955 SUPPLEMENT TO THE BANTU WORLD PAGE TWENTY-ONE

Here are members of the Eastern Transvaal Lawn Tennis Association representative team which won the national championship of the South African Bantu Lawn Tennis Tournament last year in Bloemfontein. Miss Winnie Maboea. Bantu World Sportsman of the Year, can be seen in the centre of the front row.

Messrs T. Matrose, treasurer: E. Moeti, secretary; J. Ngwenya, president; A. Moseamo, recording secretary; H. Tatane and J. Nowendi, committee members: are officials of the Transvaal Bantu Football Association. They were photographed at Wemmer recently when the T.B.F.A. trophy donated by Dr. William Godfrey was presented to J.B.F.A.

Darkies start good year

The following are details of a thrilling soccer match played at Parys ground on February the 6th between the famous Dangerous Darkies F.C. and Southren Bros of Vereeniging.

From the begining to the end, the match was tough on both sides. But later the Darkies disorganised the combination of Bros.

The final score was 11-3 in favour of the Darkies.

Darkies are arranging to play in Bloemfontein in April. We invite any club at any time to challenge us. Address: P.O. Box 96, Parys.—H. Tsoai

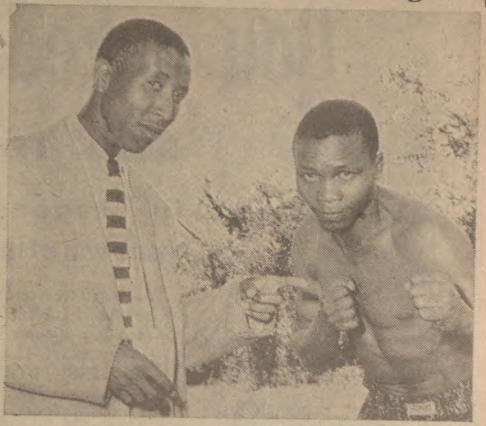

SOCCER MEETING: The annual general meeting of the Simmer and Jack Old Natalians F.C. will be held at the African Social Centre, Simmer and Jack South Compound, Germiston on Sunday, February 27th at 10 a.m.

Mr. Renneke of the Transvaal Football Association was recently given the honour of presenting Dr. William Godfrey Cup to J.B.F.A. Mr. J. Monare, captain is receiving the cup. Next to him is Mr. Monnakgotla who managed the team during the tournament.

RUSTY RUSSIA TO FIGHT IN CAPE TOWN

Mr. Richard Samuels telephoned us early this week. He was telling us that his man, Rusty Russia Mahase, favourite Transvaal welterweight boxer, will fight in Cape Town on March the 7th. His opponent will be Johnny Stansfield.

Mahase is a stablemate of Champion Elijah Mokone. He worksout publicly on Saturday in Meyer Street, Sophiatown
