THE NEW PLAN

The governments new plan is explained in the diagram. The Indian people will have to vote for an Indian parliament, the Coloured people for a Coloured parliament and the same for Whites. The African people, who make up the majority of the country are totally left out from the plan.

There will be 3 separate parliaments, but they will be different in size. As the drawing shows, for every 4 Whites in parliament there will be only 2 Coloured and 1 Indian. This means Whites will even have more votes than Indians and Coloureds put together. Even if the Indians and Coloureds unite there will be 4 Whites against 3 Black people.

The next part of the plan shows the President, the ministers and the Presidents Council. The President will be chosen by the parliaments. Because Whites have more votes the President will be White (maybe P.W. Botha). He will have a lot of power. He will hand pick all the ministers, eg. minister of health, minister of community development and others. We know he will choose people that will agree with him.

The Presidents Council, which will help the President run the country is also controlled by Whites. Of the 60 people in this body, 25 will be chosen by the President, there will be 20 Whites and only 10 Coloureds and 5 Indians. This means 45 Whites against the 15 Coloureds and Indians put together. Again we will have no say, because Whites will have more votes.

This problem of more Whites than Coloureds and Indians put together means that we will still have no say. Whites will still control the country and make the laws. Things like money for houses, education, hospitals, etc. will be decided by them. Our problems would not be solved by this new plan.

This plan shows clearly how the government is trying to divide us, by bringing in the coloureds and Indians and leaving out the African people. So we find we are brought into the government, but it is planned in such a way that we still don't have any say.
