Dear friends,

ECC NATIONAL CONFERENCE

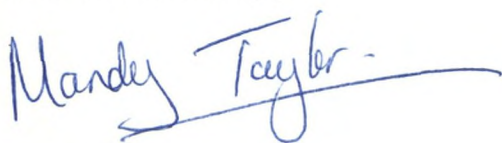

ECC is to hold its first national conference since 1988 on 24-27 May 1990 and invites your organisation to send a representative.

Given the dramatic changes in the political situation, we regard this conference as being of crucial importance for ECC and it will have a decisive impact on the future role and direction of the war resistance movement. Your organisation has always been strongly supportive of us and we would value your participation. It would not only considerably enrich our discussion but would also facilitate the renewing of links between our organisations now that ECC has re-constituted after a long period of involuntary inactivity.

I enclose a leaflet outlining the arrangements and programme of the conference.

Please let us know at your earliest convenience whether you are able to send a representative so that we can make the necessary arrangements.

Yours faithfully,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Mandy Taylor". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke extending from the end of the name.

Dear ECC branches

National Conference 1991

Some branches have asked for directions to the Katberg, so I am sending the sketch map from the back of the brochure. For further information consult your local AA, and if you want to know more about the hotel itself, it's called the Katberg Protea Hotel and brochures are available from any other hotel in the Protea group.

For whatever free time we have available bring things like walking shoes and swimming gear. I'm told it's still quite hot during the day but coldish at nights, so warmer clothes also might be needed. And talking of clothes, remember that this is a hotel and we will not be the only people there. i.e. will be sharing the dining room with businessmen, holiday-makers or perhaps people who have come to the mountains for a quiet rest.

ECC will be paying the hotel bill for accommodation and meals, but of course this does not include things like private telephone calls and bar service; so delegates please come prepared to

- (a) contribute as much as possible to the general hotel bill - minimum R40 maximum R215;
- (b) finance your own "extras".

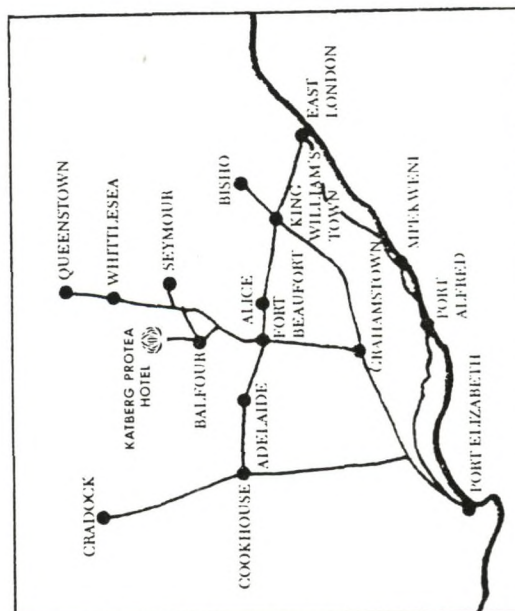

As far as travelling expenses are concerned, each branch of ECC will be responsible for petrol costs (and toll charges if any). Drivers should organise this with their local Treasurer, who will have a chance to consult with the National Treasurer at the conference if they are in dire financial straits.

Drive safely - Hambani kahle - Lekker ry.

Dear National Committee/National Treasurer

MOTIVATION TO EXTEND NATAL ECC FIELDWORKER POSITION FOR A FURTHER SIX MONTHS

As you know, Haydn Osborn's six month contract comes to an end at the end of next month (30 April).

We have undertaken an extensive evaluation of the job during the course of two meetings, and after further discussion at our last General Body meeting, resolved to strongly request National for permission and for funding to extend Haydn's contract by a further six months.

Our motivation for this request is as follows :

1. As can be seen from Haydn's report (attached) there continues to be a critical need for monitors in the field. Violence in Natal continues at crisis level. Even when it abates, the SADF will play an important role in implementing any peace agreements, and they will need to be monitored in this role.

2. In the light of our last National Conference decision that reconstruction & reconciliation are key areas of work for ECC in the future, we continue to believe that employing a fieldworker is the most appropriate way forward for ECC in Natal. It continues to be the most concrete & effective way in which we can contribute towards our goals of working for a just peace & a positive alternative for the future, building nonracialism, countering militarism & contributing towards the process of reconciliation & reconstruction.

3. Haydn has been doing an excellent job under often extremely difficult circumstances. There are numerous examples of ways in which he has made a difference for peace on the ground, sometimes at risk to his personal safety. On the basis of his work over the past 5 months we have unqualified confidence in his ability to do the job.

4. Haydn has integrated well with the monitors of our fraternal organisations (Black Sash, DP, IDASA, LRC). They support our view that the job should continue & that Haydn is playing a vital role in the monitoring team.

We have tried hard to be honest in our evaluation, and need to acknowledge a number of weaknesses on the organisation's part :

1. As can also be seen in Haydn's report, wearing an ECC 'hat' has closed state/security forces doors which may otherwise have been open to a more 'neutral' organisation in their eyes. This is a weakness of ours, and Haydn is on the sharp end of it! However this is our history and who we are. We don't have the resources to counter this image and even if we did we're not sure that we would want to. After much discussion we agreed that this 'burden' we carry with our name does not out-weigh the benefit of keeping the fieldworker job going.

2. We have not given Haydn the support & direction that he has needed. He has, quite understandably, found this demotivating. We have begun to rectify this weakness by forming a small support group for Haydn. This group will be a 'rap group' as well as giving direction, identifying priorities, etc. It will meet with him at least fortnightly. It has already met 3 times this month.

3. We have failed to make full use of the information gained by Haydn during the course of his work. We have not analysed & disseminated it widely enough. We have agreed to rectify this by, at least, developing a comprehensive mailing list of key people & organisations to target with regular information & analysis bulletins (if you have any suggestions please let us know). We are just about to get this project off the ground.

Please let us hear your view as soon as possible. It will be only fair to give Haydn as much notice as possible if his contract is not going to be renewed. However, we hope it won't come to that!

Yours in the struggle for a just peace in our land,

ECC WORKSHOP : THURSDAY 14 MARCH 1991 - J46.

SECTION 2 : PRINCIPLES RELATED TO A FUTURE DEFENCE FORCE IN SOUTH AFRICA

INTRO/CONTEXT

* ECC National Committee suggested the drafting of a paper to reflect ECC thinking on principles related to a future defence force in South Africa.

* This paper is a draft framework for use in discussion. The questions which follow are intended to facilitate debate.

DRAFT FRAMEWORK

1. NON-RACIALISM

A new defence force must be non-racial in character. However when the creation of a new defence force takes place there can be no semblances of racism with regard to units, structure, or recruitment. The new defence force should be open to all citizens of South Africa.

- should one be talking of non-racialism ? what about minority rights ?
- how are all the different elements of the forces and people that will make up a new defence force be accommodated ?
- how will certain units respond to their disbanding ? will the Transvaal highlanders or the June 16 detachment be happy with disbanding in accord with non-racialism ?
- what about recruitment policy ?

2. DEFENCE POLICY

a) The defence forces primary role must be the protection of the territorial integrity of South Africa. The use of the Defence Force in internal operations is unacceptable. Internal security is the responsibility of the police force.

b) SA should be committed to developing a nuclear free zone in Africa (in accordance with the OAU's position) and the surrounding oceans

c) SA should adhere to the Geneva conventions relating to the protocol of war and all related internationally accepted agreements that govern the conduct of warfare

- what about internal security in times of war ? when is the defence force entitled to declare war ?

3. DEMOCRACY AND THE NEW DF

a) The new DF should be fully accountable to an all-party parliamentary committee

b) Principles of internal democracy should be prioritised with special emphasis on the individual rights of soldiers as embodied in a bill of rights

c) Soldiers should be entitled to their own political opinions and the right to vote according to their conscience. However in line with maintaining a defence force that will remain accountable to the elected government of the day the influence of party political agendas within the DF must be discouraged through a number of avenues.

d) No member of the Defence Force should be such a member against his or her will; in the event of universal or partial conscription in times of war provision must be made for conscientious objectors in line with a universally accepted bill of rights.

- how can accountability be ensured with a non-conscripted army ? what avenues can be used from a parliament level down to a grass roots level to ensure accountability ?
- what defines an official secret and what level of disclosure should the public be entitled to ?

4. FURTHER ISSUES

a) what type of army is desirable in South Africa ? A professional army or an army based largely on peoples militias ?

b) should the army be the only agency with military capacity ? What type of firearms policy should exist with regard to civilians and their right to defend themselves ?

ECC NATIONAL CONFERENCE 1991

ECC will be holding a National conference from May 9th to 12th, and we would be glad to have a representative from the SASH.

The agenda has not yet been finalised, but will include the setting of priorities for ECC, an analysis of Conscription, past, present and future, a report on Natal violence monitoring from ECC's fieldworker, policy discussions on a future army for South Africa as well as an assessment of the SADF now, and a general overview of the political situation.

The venue for the conference is the Katberg Protea Hotel in the Eastern Cape. The cost for the whole weekend (Thursday dinner to Sunday breakfast) will be R215 per person, and delegates and organisations are being asked to contribute as much as they can. Transport by road is being arranged for people from the various centres.

Please let me know at your earliest convenience whether you are able to send a representative and from which region.

For attention Tertia Meyer

Dear Tertia,

Delegates to ECC conference at Katberg Hotel, 9-12 May.

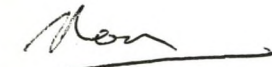

Sorry, the numbers are not yet finalised, so far we have about 45 on our list, coming from Cape Town (10), East London (5), Durban (5), Port Elizabeth (1 or 2), Grahamstown (10), Bloemfontein (1), Johannesburg (11 +).

I don't think it's necessary to work out detailed rooming lists in advance; this can probably be sorted out as people arrive.

There may be a few vegetarians among us, but I am sure the hotel will be able to cope with this.

Can you pass this information on to Katberg, and I will contact you again next week.

Thanks

Nan Cross

12 April 1991

Dear ECC branches

I've just been reading through some of Roddy's branch letters, and am so impressed. Please don't expect such a high standard of communication from me, but I'll try!

At the moment the big thing is NATIONAL CONFERENCE. Its on, its at the Katberg Protea Hotel between Queenstown and Fort Beaufort (41 km from FB), and it starts on Thursday evening May 9th, ending on Sunday morning with time to get back for work next day. The agenda is being drawn up by Jo'burg ECC, so shout now if there's anything you specially want included. The draft agenda will be circulated soon. There will be some free time to enjoy what the hotel blurb describes as the "deeply wooded hills and vales of the Winterberg" and/or Horseriding, tennis, snooker, squash, swimming or whatever.*

What is needed now is numbers of people coming. Could you let me know by April 24th? The cost will be R100 per person for the weekend, but no doubt there will be some help for totally indigent reps or branches. As Roddy puts it "people will be expected to pay as much as they can afford".

When planning travel arrangements try to arrive before dark: the last 13km is dirt road. Since Katberg is miles from everywhere its probably best and also cheapest to travel by road; the nearest airport is East London 200 km away so cars would have to be hired from there anyway. Other road distances (per the AA) are Durban 640 km, Bloem 650 km, Cape Town 1058 km and Jo'burg 900 km.

Hope to see you at the Katberg but will be in touch again before then.

Nan Cross.

*Is ECC too suffering from delusions of grandeur? A national conference at a HOTEL nogal! Just goes to show that its high time for conscription to end.

KATBERG PROTEA HOTEL — CISKEI

YOUR PRIVATE RETREAT IN THE WINTERBERG.

A restful environment is just the thing when tackling mission planning, strategies — even takeovers or mergers. And with so many things to consider, the last thing you need — or get — is interruptions or distractions.

The Katberg Protea has a long history of traditional values and good service — and lives up to it. The atmosphere is still one of old-fashioned quality, making the Katberg Protea a hotel that has always been highly rated by executives with bigger issues to contend with.

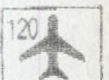

REFURBISHED AND UP-TO-DATE.

To complement the magical country atmosphere, the hotel's 68 double rooms have recently been refurbished. And, of course, the conference rooms received undivided attention.

Equipment such as slide projectors and whiteboards are standard in all three, and between 30 and 120 delegates can be accommodated with a schoolroom seating arrangement. Naturally, a boardroom format also seats smaller groups in perfect comfort.

LEISURE ACTIVITIES TO KEEP DELEGATES ON THEIR TOES.

Besides the very atmosphere of the Katberg Protea Hotel, various leisure activities help you get the stress out of your system. Tennis and squash courts, a bowling green, pool and golf course leave you with a clear mind for the next day's meeting. Or try horse-riding and forest walks.

Dear Roddy

Here is some info on Katberg. I've never been there, but have heard that it is nicer than Hogsback (hmm?!)

Tertia Meyer, the Protea Hotels Sales Executive has given ECC the following deal: (50 people)

R100 p.p. sharing

Includes: breakfast, dinner, conference venue, teas & coffees
Does not include lunch — pub lunches available at R5-R6.
Arriving Thursday 9 May, departing Sunday 12 May

She has made a provisional booking which we must confirm by 15 March. So will you get back to me?

Love,

Bea
