FOREWORD BY THE BISHOP.

IN all its history I doubt whether our Hospital has been in a happier or more promising condition than it is to-day. There is a keen and competent staff, patients are pouring in, grants from public bodies show signs of increasing, and new buildings are going up as quickly as is possible, although supplies of materials are often held up, and delays are unavoidable.

This foreword being written some weeks after the Doctor's Report, I am able to bring our history up to date. On March 28th last our new buildings consisting of two wards each holding eight patients, and an excellent operating theatre, were formally opened by Mr. Goodman, a member of the Executive Committee of the Provincial Council, who deputized for the Administrator, who at the last moment was unable to come. Others who attended were the Chief Commissioner for the Northern Areas, Mr. Lowe, our good friends the Commissioners for the Sekukuni and Pokwani areas, Mr. Button and Mr. Holtzhausen and a number of Africans, including Chiefs Sekukuni and Sekwati. Mr. Goodman and Mr. Lowe made most sympathetic speeches commending the work of the Hospital. The wards were solemnly blessed, and then a procession was formed to the new reservoir, which with the well, the oil-driven pump and the extensive piping is the gift of the Native Affairs Department. Here again was a short service of Dedication. I was told that these services made a deep impression upon our visitors.

The Doctor has greatly improved the appearance of the Hospital, and all the buildings have been colour-washed, and the woodwork painted; and a grass terrace laid out in front of the main block. As will be seen from his Report, the new buildings to which I have referred are much needed. The coming of Mr. William Midgley has been a great boon and he has already taken much of the burden of the supervision of the estate and buildings from the Doctor's shoulders. It did me good to be told by him,

"This is the job I've been waiting for all my life!" Mr. Midgley is also keen to help on the missionary side. Those most generous friends and helpers, Miss Macaulay and Miss Willetts have now left the Hospital, though fortunately for us they stayed longer than they intended; Miss Simmonds has arrived to take their place.

As regards the Mission, the coming of the Fathers of the Community of the Resurrection has been one of the most outstanding events in the history of the diocese. Fathers Hill and Evans have been installed since December, and have at once made their presence felt. Father Hill's long experience, his wisdom, and geniality together with Father Evans untiring zeal are a great gift to the work. I cannot be grateful enough to the Community for sending us these representatives.

I know that I shall not ask in vain for the continuance of your prayers and your generous support to meet the wonderful opportunity which lies before us.

Superintendent's Report.

THE past year has seen a vast number of changes in the hospital and the work has doubly increased in each of the departments. Much more building has been done and a large building programme has been planned for this year. The immediate precincts of the hospital have been tidied up and the hospital itself has been painted throughout. The wards have been painted a cream colour above, and the lower part is green, while the outside has all been done a cream colour. This applies also to the Sister's and the Nurse's homes. The rondavels have not been done as we hope to get rid of all these out-buildings in our new building scheme this year.

In the past the ground used to slope towards the front of the hospital, and, during our heavy rains, the water used to flood the front verandah, and all the beds had to be removed during each storm. To prevent this two terraces have been built, so preventing any rush of water on to the verandah.

Grass has been planted on the middle terrace, which has taken root splendidly during our recent rains, and the upper and lower terraces make a circular drive for cars entering and leaving the hospital grounds. Two rows of Jacaranda trees are growing on the upper terrace, and these provide a very welcome protection from the summer sun.

Statistics.— The figures for the work done are given on another page and it will be seen that much progress has been made. The total number of Out-patients has increased from 8,604 to 15,937, although we still have the same number of outlying clinics. The total number treated in the hospital has also increased from 587 to 1,009.

The incidence of diseases is much the same, except that there has been a large increase in the number of Venereal cases treated. The natives are realising the importance of being treated for this disease, and they are coming in gradually increasing numbers for their injections. Even now, they always shrink from the first injection, but come quite willingly for the rest. But it is going to be extremely difficult to stamp out this disease, as only one or perhaps two of a family will come for treatment, leaving the rest still infected. But it is always the hope of the medical man that more will see the advantages of treatment, and will, later, all come to be treated.

Clinics.— We still have five outlying clinics, which are visited fortnightly, except for Magalies, which is visited every week. The numbers at three clinics have trebled themselves, while at the others they have been doubled. It is quite the usual thing at Magalies to see 200-250 patients in an afternoon, with between 30-40 injections. Schoonoord clinic, which has been very slow to show any improvement, has increased, and I have seen 97 patients there as compared with the usual 30. Mohleletsi pleases me also because I see 180-200 patients there as compared with the old number of 60-70.

The clinics are important because these act as "feeders" to the hospital. Now that the natives are getting more used to the European methods of healing, they will leave their homes and come to the hospital for a month to six weeks treatment and it is from these clinics that most of our patients come. I often bring in 8-10 patients from a clinic. Thus our in-patients have increased largely and I have had as many as 105 patients in the hospital at one time. And we only had 40 beds. But two new wards have now been built, and they bring the number of beds up to 56. However, we have rondavels into which the venereal cases are placed.

This increase in patients has doubled the expenses of course and, but for our kind friends overseas and in this country, we would be hard put to know how to feed these poor people. The native makes a good patient and grumbles little at his lot, but I am hoping soon to be able to give him a better mixed diet while he is in hospital. There is much scurvy amongst them, and this is so easily cured with a better diet.

I think I might give you here an interesting anecdote of one of our clinic patients. She walked from a very long distance to Magalies, and she complained of a huge open sore on her thigh, which she had had for a very long time. She consented to come into hospital and after a course of injections and the usual treatment for such cases, she left the hospital quite cured. I heard afterwards that, when she arrived at her village, the people of the neighbouring village would not believe that she had been healed, so they all walked over en masse to see the old lady, to make quite sure that what they had heard was true!

This sort of thing serves as a very good advertisement to the hospital, and I wish that all cases could be as successful as that. Unfortunately, so many of the natives bring in their sick when it is already too late, and then get disappointed when a miracle does not happen. If only they would bring all their cases in earlier then I feel sure their confidence in us would increase a hundred fold. But much patience is required to deal with these people in their raw state, and, with patience, I hope we shall overcome their natural fear of the white man's treatment. There is still too much of this fear of the white people, engendered by bad treatment which the black man has received in the past.

Buildings. — We have now laid out a large building scheme for this year of 1939. Two new wards and a new operating theatre were added to the main building in November last, thus completing the quadrangle. The new theatre was absolutely necessary, because everything, whether septic or aseptic, was done in the one theatre, and this was most unsatisfactory.

The two new wards hold eight beds each and will add to the comfort of the patients.

A new garage is now being built. This will contain the new laundry (a building which is badly needed as the laundry girls have had to work in a lean-to made of corrugated iron, which became unbearable in the hot weather), a carpenter's shop, space for four cars and the lorry, and four extra rooms to serve as servants' quarters. It was decided to pull down the old estate manager's house (which is in a sad state of dilapidation), and to use the iron of that house, the iron of the old garage in which the mission car is stored, and the iron on the present garage, to build the new one.

Then we hope to put up a new V.D. block, and a new Sister's home to contain four extra rooms, and a new store room, the present one being too small for our needs. Funds have been received from a kind friend in England for the erection of an X-ray room, which is badly needed.

Water Supply. — The bore-hole which was made in 1937 has been converted into a well with galleries at the bottom. This has increased the supply slightly, and I understand that we shall get 143 gallons an hour. Men are busy at the moment erecting a reservoir, a windmill, and they are laying pipes to the hospital and the houses. This is all being done by the Native Affairs Department, who have been most kind and helpful in their endeavours for "Jane."

Sisters. — Miss Case resigned in June, and since then we have had as Matron Miss E. Skinner, who came to us in our hour of need. In October we had the offer of help from two voluntary workers, Miss Macaulay and Miss Willetts, who have been more than kind in giving up their time to help us until we can get a more permanent staff. Their work has been quite voluntary, and "Jane" has benefitted greatly by their kind acts and the spirit in which they have worked in times of difficulty. Miss Skinner, too, has worked exceedingly well, and we are thankful to her for her help. There is really too much work at "Jane" for only three sisters, and we hope to have an addition to the staff in May or June, in the person of Miss Simmonds, a friend of Miss Skinner's.

Nursing Staff. — We now have 14 native nurses. This increase in the numbers has been necessary for the large increase in in-patients during the past year. As we are so far in the country there is little for the nurses to do in their spare time, so I am now having a tennis court made so that they can have some form of recreation.

X-ray. — The electric light and X-ray were installed in May. These have been a valuable addition to the hospital. The X-ray is a portable one and is most useful, and it takes most excellent pictures.

Estate. — This has been somewhat neglected owing to the fact that we have had no estate manager to look after the place. But we now have a Mr. Midgley, who is coming from England in January to take over all this work.

In December three of the Fathers of the Community of the Resurrection, Fathers Hill, Evans and Alston, came to "Jane" to take up their residence, and to undertake, with Mr. Mamabolo the Mission side of the work. Three new rooms were built on to the old Guest House for them, and they are now comfortably settled in. We wish them every success in the work.

Sekukuniland Mission Report, 1938.

THE report for 1937 was written by Canon Augustine Moeka, who came to the Mission in 1919 and has given nearly 20 years of his priesthood to it. Except for 3½ years from 1925 to 1929, when Father Moffatt took charge, Canon Moeka has been single-handed and for the last 10 years he has rendered wider service to the Diocese as Assistant Director of Missions.

He went on long leave for much needed rest and refreshment in May, and while on leave decided that the time had come when he ought to seek a change of work.

The Diocese and the Mission and his many converts in the District will always remember his faithful ministry and that of his devoted wife with gratitude to God. The Rev. Rufus Mamabolo was placed in temporary charge in May, and in December two Priest-members of the Community of the Resurrection came into residence and were licensed by the Bishop and instituted at Marishane.

The report of 1938 is therefore written by a newcomer.

The two bright spots in the district are Marishane (Mooifontein) and the Jane Furse Hospital.

It is encouraging to find at Marishane a beautiful church with 80 communicants and 3 out-stations with about the same number of communicants. The Church was planned and built by Father Moffatt and Mr. Wansborough on a site near the great tree under which we preached 25 years ago.

It is encouraging also to find a Religious House at Marishane and the Daughters of Mary, a small community of African women living in a simple native way and working among the women and girls there and in the out-stations.

At the Hospital we find another beautiful Church nicely furnished and carefully kept with a roll of 40 communicants. The Chancel of the present church was the original Chapel of the Hospital and a nave has been added and extended, so that it is now capable of holding 200 people.

Since our arrival we have been able to increase the number of services, and we now have a daily Eucharist and a sung Eucharist every Sunday. The in-patients of the Hospital have daily prayers on the stoep, and those who can walk attend the Sunday afternoon mission services in the Church.

Many of the nurses are girls who have been brought up in our mission schools and are instructed and keen members of the Church. We have also a Government-aided mission school at the Hospital attended by over 100 children from the neighbouring villages. The teachers are Church-trained and helpful to us in every way. Two of our girls are diligently carrying on the Wayfarer and Sunbeam Troops, and the Doctor hopes soon to start Pathfinders.

These are some of the encouragements which we find and are thankful for.

We are trying to make the Hospital the central power-station of the district.

At present we are trying to master the intricacies of the Sepedi language and hope soon to get portions of the Prayer Book ready for publication in that dialect. But when we get our minds away from the routine work and look out upon the villages round about us we become conscious of the tremendous task which lies before the Church in this district. And we think not only of this district but of others in the Diocese where the needs are just as urgent and where men and means to meet them are less available.

The forces of evil are very great, entrenched as they are in heathen life. We felt it sometimes in the compounds at Johannesburg, but we feel the entrenchment of it here.

“A great door and effectual is opened unto us, but there are many adversaries.”

It is a darkness which only the Spirit of the living Christ can penetrate.

We do crave the prayers and alms of the faithful, as we thank them for all that they have done in the past and are doing in the present.
