MASSACRE AT NGOYE.

That blood-thirsty, collaborationist ethnic chief has done it again - this time at the University of Zululand.

Last Saturday's cowardly and barbaric attack on unarmed students at Ngoye, should be condemned by all those who profess to uphold the principles of academic freedomand DEMOCRACY.

BACKGROUND

For quite sometime now that ethnic- based organisation Inkatha, has, by force and intimidation, suppressed any opposition to Gatsha at Ngoye.

A democratic student organisation had to either operate underground or face the wrath of kierie-wielding thugs on campus, or operate clandestinely.

As Chancellor the "Chief" feels he has got every right to be on Campus, at anytime He could even bring his whole ill-trained, Blood-thirsty and undisciplined army with him if he feels like it. "Whether students are preparing for exams or not, I GATSHA, will hold a rally on Campus".

Students at Ngoye had on several occasions demonstrated their intolerance for a supported and defender of the system.

BUILD-UP

On August 12, a meeting that was to have been addressed by Inkatha Secretary-General, Oscar Dhlomo was disrupted by angry students.

MASSACRE

Last Saturday while Ngoye students were within their right protesting against the disturbing and distracting presence of a collaborationist Zulu impi on their campus 17 bus loads of battle-song chanting thugs including women attacked unarmed and defenceless students, using an array of weapons including kieries, spears, sticks, and iron rods.

Book 2 "AP13" Jan 2.3.15

The fact that a lecturer at that university was leading the onslaught against the students is deplorable to say the least. Yet that bespectacled Zulu chief blames instigators for opposition against his sell-out tactics. That is a smokescreen, Chief.

WE SAY

This cowardly, barbaric and unprovoked attack by that remote-controlled, ill-disciplined barbaric and blood-thirsty ethnic impi has no place in any society.

While the circumstances are presently not conducive for Ngoye students to prepare themselves both mentally and physically for the exams, we call for courage and calm in the face of this unprovoked and unwarranted provocation.

We pledge solidarity with the students of Ngoye.

Our heartfelt sympathy and condolences to the friends and families of the students who lost life and limb in this barbaric attack.

We wish those in hospital a speedy recovery.

We call upon all black people to observe the period starting from the fourth(4th) to the seventh(7th) November as a period of mourning.

Should we allow this oppressor to be on rampage? A THOUSAND TIMES NO!!!
