of the apartheid policy in recent years. Similarly, is there any evidence that the numbers of academics taking posts in South African universities has been affected by this policy? I should also like to have information on the number of South African non-Europeans at present studying abroad, if such information is available.

Also, is there any evidence of official discouragement of certain lines of scientific investigations, particularly in anthropology and the social studies as a result of racial theories? I have seen it stated that the teaching of evolution is discouraged in biological courses in the schools. Are certain text books prohibited on these grounds?

I should be very grateful indeed for any help you could give me in relation to these or other matters that would be relevant to the survey I have undertaken.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mrs Glean,

In further reply to your letter 55/5701/24 of 5 January, a new Afrikaans medium university is to be built at Auckland Park, Johannesburg. Enabling legislation was passed last year. Dear Sir,

The UNESCO, particularly interested by the problems concerning the descendants of Africans in Latin America as by the - historical or present ties that have united or continue uniting the Afro-Americans and the Africans, charged me to draw up an inventory :

- 1) of the Institutes, Centers, Organizations that deal with these problems only or partially;
- 2) of the projects engaged in these fields of research, in order to establish an organic junction between these Institutes or these Searchers, and, eventually, connect them.

I would be particularly grateful to you if you could send me back as soon as you can, and to the address here over indicated, the joined questionnaire, completed by you; please add also, if possible, the name and the address of other Centers or isolated Searchers you may know.

With all my thanks in advance,

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Leslie,

Thank you for your letter of 8th May. The "second letter" you refer to gave me no real headaches. I just wanted time to digest it fully and work out a suitable reply.

What ever correspondence you send me will always be read in the light of your obvious efforts to improve an existing situation.

I think the conversational approach to U Thant is a good idea. Nevertheless, for purposes of record, I must formally present your request and suggestion as modified by our Executive Committee. After that it would be a good idea if we saw U Thant together. My only problem is that, at the moment, I cannot say exactly when I will be going to New York. I have programmes in Europe in June, July, August and September. I may have to go to Latin America in November. From there, I shall certainly go to New York. Should there be a change in my plans I shall let you know.

By the way, in my next Newsletter, I have had to deal strongly with the whole question of racial discrimination. I have made use of the opportunity not merely to criticize those who openly practice apartheid but also all those hypocrites who are ready to condemn apartheid but who do not hesitate to practice racialism in their day to day relations with other peoples. This is really the purpose of the editorial. I am sure you will understand.

With my kind regards to you and your colleagues,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Perera,

Request and Suggestion

This letter is written to place on record the appreciation and thanks of our members for the decision of your Executive to support the above proposals. Most particularly are we grateful for your own strenuous efforts and those of your colleagues who assisted in gaining this favourable decision.

We thank you, also, for your willingness to soft-pedal attacks against this country pending the outcome of these negotiations.

In the latter regard, we might have been wiser to have delayed our approach to our Prime Minister until you had talked to U Thant. As you know, this early move was made to remove any suspicion that we were working behind his back, in the full knowledge that it might be disregarded or rejected out of hand. In such an event, we will promptly try again, relying on you to ensure that thoughtless rejection is not used as an excuse for renewed hostilities; which action would rule out the possibility of a change of mind. After all, U Thant himself may prove not all that easy to persuade, which is the reason why we so desperately need your so very valuable help.

Despite these recommended words of caution and the bitter fears and hostility still to be overcome, our members and well-wishers are vastly encouraged by the progress so far made. We would like you please, to convey this sentiment to your colleagues together with our warmest thanks and heartfelt wishes for the success of your coming mission.

most sincerely,

H.L. Simon - Director.

c.c. The Honourable the Prime Minister.
