Miss J. Mercer Johnson
Summer 510 High St.
Brenham, Tex.

Sept. 4/19 Box 39

Prairie View College

When your days are dark & weary And your friends seem very few,
Angels in heaven will whisper
"J. Mercer loves you!"

The possibilities
The power of the human soul cannot be measured, and no man guesses the real strength of his closest friend.

It is just the change that comes to the Individual who applies Christ's teaching to his daily life. High purpose, noble activity, virtue, honesty and cleanliness.

Truly it was a picture of great contrast — of brightest lights and deepest shadows —
almost as when the Son of God prayed for his enemies and wept because they were his enemies.

"Starting in Life"

1. The Physician.

The physician is one of the noblest products in life. He lives both under the sunshine of life and under the shadow of death.

2. The Department Store

A store of departments, a combination of what may be considered distinct stores, under one roof and managed by one general head.

3. The Architect.

A creator of originality.

4. The Manufacturer
He who makes something with his hands, or by employing the hands of others, no matter what that something is, is a manufacturer.

5. The Agriculturist.
Farmer is a plain tiller of soil, and agriculturist as one who has lifted the farm on to the plane of business.

To be in love with our work does not fully suffice. It is necessary to have the love for the work so appear before men that they may honor

"If" with apologies to Mr. Kipling.

If you can dress to make yourself attractive, Yet not make puff and curls your chief delight;
If you can swim and row,
Be strong and active,
But of the gentler races lose not sight;

If you can dance without a craze for dancing, Play without giving play too strong a hold;
Enjoy the love of friends without romancing, Care for the weak, the friendless, and the old;

If you can master French and Greek and Latin,
And not acquire, as well,
a priggyish mien;
If you can feel the touch of silk and satin without despising calico and jean;

By Miss Board,

There's a long red
trail a'winding
To Talladega on the hill,

Where the breezes
softly murmur
And the air with songs is filled,

There the 'y'c girls have assembled
making merry all day long,

From sunrise in the morning, till they sing their evening song.

vers

Oh how well miss
those dear old morning hikes, thro' the hot sun & over the

dusty road,
walk till our feet are sore, & say we won't go any more
oh how we'll miss
you, Talladega dear,

Smiles.

We're the girls at Talladega dear old gathered here from every where,
we do love the blue triangle, that our noble women wear when we leave the hills of Alabama and each happy
girl has gone her way,
we will never forget

"Farewell - but whenever you welcome the hour That awakens the night-song of mirth in your bower, Then think of the friend who once welcomed it too, and forgot her own griefs to be happy with you.
Her griefs may return,
not a hope may remain
Of the few that have brighten'd her pathway ~~with~~ of pain, But she ne'er will forget the short vision that threw its enchantment around her,
while lingering
with you.

2

And still on that evening, when pleasure fills up to the highest top sparkle each heart and each cup, where'er my path lies,
be it gloomy or bright my soul happy friends shall be with you.
that night; shall join
in your revels, your sport and your
and return to me beaming all over with your smiles.
Too bliss if it tells me that, midst the gay cheer, some kind voice had murmured
I wish she were here?

Let fate do her worst,
 there are relics of joy, Bright dreams of the past, which she cannot destroy; which come in the night-time of
 of sorrow and care,
 And bring back the features that joy used to wear.

Long, long be my heart with such memories fill'd! Like the vase, in which roses have once been distilled.
 You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
 but the scent of the roses will hang round it still."

Doxology

1

Things that are worth while are the things that count.

Build me a house
as the women do.

I know you'll never forget your african friend you met at the conference will you 'but'
my dear 'I hope your memories
of me will be sweet I am not so very bad after all, and I don't mean everything I say.

Dear Little Julie I'm just crazy about you.
You are not bad at all but mischievous. My memories will always be sweet.
