P.G. Box 1158, JOHANNESBURG.

lst June, 1969.

Dearest Bob.

Good to hear from you again, and to find you mounding so bright (your letter of May 23, somewhat delayed in the post). By now you will have seen Veronica and your brother-in-law, both of whom I saw this week. I hope the dressing gown was to your taste, and that it reached you before you had bought one yourself. The need for a watch is noted. I shall attend to it.

About your niece: I suggest that she apply for a bursary to the Maurice Isaacson Trust, P.O. Box 97, Johannesburg. They have a number of varsity bursaries available, and to my knowledge, are the leading people in the country. The application for next year should be made immediately by asking the Trust to forward the necessary application forms. OK? Apart from this, I don't have any other contacts in this field.

Today I spent with Jenny, wandering around Johannesburg in the warm sum and visiting friends. She was an utter delight, full of her charm and joy. My variaty lectures in the late-afternoon have come to an end, so from this week on I can again start doing homework with Jenny in the afternoons a couple of times a week. It's a pleanant chore for me, and she enjoys it.

Veronica told me that the children would be with you over the next weekend, so I am looking forward to being able to see them when I come down. Talking of that, the dammed trial is still dragging on. We thought we would be over by June 5 or 4, but now we wight not even be ended by this coming Friday. If we do end the hill still set off for Cape Town on Sunday, June 5, and reach Kimberley on June 11. But if the trial continues into the next week, some adjustment might be necessary. If we end on June 9 or 10 (which seem to be the very latest dates), then I will probably fly straight to Kimberley from here, so as to get there still on June 11. I'll send you a telegram just as soon as I know myself what will happen. Sorry, Bob, to have to be so indefinite about it, but it's impossible to know when these prolonged proceedings will end. As things stand now, the outlook is not too cheerful, by the way.

Veronica promised to fone me when she returned, so I am hoping to hear from her tomorrow morning and to have first-hand news of you. I hope that you are settling down there. What are you doing with your days?

Robert Sobukwe Papers

PUBLISHER: Publisher:- Historical Papers, The Library, University of the Witwatersrand Location:- Johannesburg ©2010

LEGAL NOTICES:

Copyright Notice: All materials on the Historical Papers website are protected by South African copyright law and may not be reproduced, distributed, transmitted, displayed, or otherwise published in any format, without the prior written permission of the copyright owner.

Disclaimer and Terms of Use: Provided that you maintain all copyright and other notices contained therein, you may download material (one machine readable copy and one print copy per page) for your personal and/or educational non-commercial use only.

People using these records relating to the archives of Historical Papers, The Library, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, are reminded that such records sometimes contain material which is uncorroborated, inaccurate, distorted or untrue. While these digital records are true facsimiles of paper documents and the information contained herein is obtained from sources believed to be accurate and reliable, Historical Papers, University of the Witwatersrand has not independently verified their content. Consequently, the University is not responsible for any errors or omissions and excludes any and all liability for any errors in or omissions from the information on the website or any related information on third party websites accessible from this website.

DOCUMENT DETAILS:

Document ID:- A2618-Ba7-48 Document Title:- Letter to Robert Sobukwe (copy) and typed transcripts Author:- Benjamin Pogrund Document Date:- 1 June 1969