South Africa.

Dear Mr. Paton,

Your article on 'Apartheid and its Effects on the Life and Future of South Africa' published in the International Edition of the New York Times on April 11. 1960 was read by us. We valued this article so highly that we asked the New York Times permission to reprint it in our monthly Magazine Wending, This weekly has as its aim the confrontation of Christianity and Culture and appaers since the last war in order ~~WAK~~ to serve the renewal of the church and the Society.

We are sure that you do not mind our reprinting this article. Perhaps you would write us how we can send you your fee.

Many things certainly have happened since I had the pleasure of meeting you at Evanston in 1954.

Brotherly greetings, me

Dear Dr. van Veen,

I herewith give permission to you to reprint the NEW YORK TIMES article. I do not think you would have any difficulty in remitting the fee. I receive cheques from America and England quite freely, but I am sure your Bank would give you the best information .

Yes, many things have happened since we met at Evanston. The whole continent has changed, and of course the greatest changes are yet to take place in the southern countries.

Cordial greetings.

Yours sincerely,
