It was further noted that the nature of some of the issues under discussion was such that mandates of Regions were needed. It was therefore decided that the N.E.C decision forwarded to Regions as guidelines for discussion that firm decisions be taken on the basis of synthesized views of Regions.

4. FUTURE OF THE UDF

The following topics were discussed under the above topic:

- 4.1 Future direction
- 4.2 Structure
- 4.3 Policy
- 4.4 Operational areas
- 4.5 Strategic area

4.1.1 FUTURE DIRECTION OF UDF

With regard to the future of the Front it was noted that the Conference resolutions indicated continuity of the UDF. (The view of the N.E.C in this respect is that the UDF must be retained as a Front however, that the focus thereof may change.) And that, this will be determined by contradictions arising out of the implementation of the so-called new deal. (It was further noted that some affiliates were beginning to feel that the Front was not militant enough, lack enough depth.) (On this aspect the N.E.C decided that although affiliates could be militant and committed programmes such as the Freedom Charter, the UDF had to remain broad enough to accommodate all forces particularly the unions.)

4.1.2 STRUCTURE

The N.E.C observed:

- (a) that the structure of any organisation was influenced by obtaining conditions.
- (b) that the structure of the UDF was based on the conditions that existed at the time of its formation and the change in its structure would therefore be influenced by change in conditions. Change in conditions will be determined by Regional Councils.

4.1.3 POLICY

It was noted that the nature of the policies of the UDF must not depart from the spirit of the Front. The N.E.C noted that it was important that an attempt be made to develop a common understanding of the National Democratic Struggle. It was noted that some members of the Front were making demands of highly political nature which can only be taken by political organisations with a particular party-line.

4.1.4 OPERATIONAL AREAS

The N.E.C noted that the Front had to expand its operational areas. It must begin to address more concretely and seriously the question of the youth and women in particular two major international events such as the International Youth Year and the UN End of Women's Decade.

5. ANTI-ELECTION CAMPAIGN

5.1 STRUCTURE

It was reported that all regions had already set up Joint Planning Councils to co-ordinate the campaign. Only the Northern Cape and Border Regions were reported to have no JPC's.

The Northern Cape Region reported that a Committee of Concern formed recently is co-ordinating the campaign.

7. NATIONAL EVENTS:

It was noted that the UDF had to offer some kind of alternatives to the election
The following were recommended:

7.1 A demonstration by national figures to coincide with the elections

7.2 Unity chain linking up different townships

7.3 Ringing of bells by various churches at an hourly interval in demonstration of rejection of the constitution

7.4 No agreement was reached as to whether the UDF could call for a defiance campaign. The emphasis made was that every action taken must win the UDF more supporters. That those involved must understand the implications of the action. It was accordingly recommended that the matter be discussed seriously by all Regions as it is likely to have far reaching implications for the UDF.

8. FINANCES

It was noted that calling on people to boycott elections is not enough. The UDF has to offer alternatives.

° elected leaders of the people must participate fully in the planning of the convention.

10.3 We must draw a clear distinction between a National Convention and Talks. The above must be referred to Regions. Feedback must be given before 18/8/84 (14 days).
