JOHANNESBURG.

10th May, 1967.

Dear Nana,

It is my turn to apologise for the delay in answering a letter.

I look forward to hearing that the arrangement for direct ordering from the Economist Bookshop has been tied up. I have received from them their latest catalogues and am forwarding these to Bob who might wish to order some books.

Did you receive my request regarding the examination papers? This has now become urgent and I shall be glad if you will let me know about this as soon as possible.

I am planning to leave here on June 24 and will be arriving in London, all being well, on June 30. I am at present having a last try at regaining my passport. My first three months or so in London will be spent completing the writing of a book on communism which I am doing for Stanford University. After that I am not too sure, but my eventual hope is to be able to land up in an American university, lecturing, doing research and writing in the field of African studies.

When ~~will~~ you be returning to London? It will be nice to see you again. My address there, incidentally, will be: c/o Mrs N. Kitson, 2 Hurstwood Court, Finchley Road, London NW11, fone 455.3923.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
