(DIOCESE OF PRETORIA).

Annual Report for 1939.

CAXTON, PRETORIA

FOREWORD BY THE BISHOP.

ONCE again we send out our Annual Report commending the work of the Hospital and Mission to the prayers and the generosity of friends in Africa and England.

The past year was clouded by the tragic death of the Medical Superintendent, Dr. Gilbert Stanford, who in less than two years had done splendid work for the sick and suffering Africans at the Hospital, and the Clinics outside. His work will live. I have every confidence that his successor, Dr. Gustav Kloeckner, will carry on the tradition, and the number of attendances at the Hospital and the Clinics, which is a very sure guide, shows that his work and personality appeal to the Africans. The fact that he and his wife are full members of the Church of the Province means much to the Hospital and the Mission.

We have by no means come to the end of our building programme for a new Isolation block is needed, for which the money is in hand. Buildings completed during 1939, include a new garage, some much needed outhouses, and a new European Sisters' Home. This latter has for long been a great need; for those whose work is so continuous and so heavy, at least deserve reasonably comfortable housing. Since the beginning of 1940, a small cottage has also been built for the Estate Manager.

It has been a great joy to me that, encouraged by Dr. Stanford, Mr. Midgley has made a most successful start in growing vegetables for the Hospital. For years I had always wished that this might be done on something like an adequate scale, and at long last a dream has come true.

Gifts in kind have always been a most important part of the support given by our friends, and I ought specially to call attention to the gifts made by the Native Recruiting Corporation for additional electric plant; from the Native Affairs Department garden at Schoonoord; gifts of coal from the Witbank Collieries; and oranges from the Zebediela Estates—all immensely valuable. There is always a permanent need of sheets and blankets, nightgowns and pyjamas, medicine bottles, and cast-off linen for dressings; and as to this more detailed information is always gladly given by the Matron.

Life at the Hospital would be very different if it were not for the continued interest and kindly help given by the officials of the Native Affairs Department, and of the Native Recruiting Corporation.

The Missionary work progresses steadily, but no one would pretend that it is easy; one drawback is that Father Hill has had laid upon him a very heavy burden of secretarial work. I hope that before many months are past he will be relieved of this. Fr. Levi Phatlane will probably be moving his headquarters from the Hospital to Marishane (Mooifontein), and the work will benefit from this measure of decentralisation.

Some figures representing the growth of the work of the Hospital in the last four years will be interesting.

	In-patients.	In-patient days.	Out-Patients.
1936	521	9,088	7,926
1939	1,302	33,780	20,430

I need hardly say that the work needs additional financial support, and as to this the figures are eloquent.

We are giving you no photographs this year, partly for reasons of economy, and partly because no very interesting shots have come to hand. It may be that my ciné film of the Hospital may be seen in the future in various parts of the diocese, and in Johannesburg.

In conclusion I should like to add my testimony to the splendid work done by all, European and African, at the Hospital, and in the Mission, and to the self-sacrificing spirit which animates it.

Medical Superintendent's Report.

THE report for 1939 is written by a newcomer. It cannot give reflections on the past year, but it can interpret some of the statistics.

It is written in memory of the late Dr. Stanford, and any improvements shown are due to his excellent work and personality. As the figures show, the year 1939 has been a record year. The number of in-patients as well as out-patients has greatly increased, showing the growing confidence of the native population in European Medicine. Another reason has been the high incidence of Malaria among the natives. Our lorry had to go out during May and June, to bring patients in from their villages several times a day, and the daily average of patients in June went up to more than 130 ! The beds were used only for severe cases, while the other patients had to sleep on the floor.

The incidence of other diseases is about the same, the increase in some figures being relative to the greater number of patients. The same applies to the death rate.

As to "Improved" patients, many of them have actually been cured, but since it is impossible to keep the patients longer than absolutely necessary for treatment in hospital, they are discharged as reconvalescents, and attend the Out-patient Department or Clinics for further supervision.

May I add a few remarks on the first three months of 1940 ? When I arrived at "Jane" on the last day of the past year, I found the place bigger and the task greater than I had thought. I found it more beautiful too, and I was very thankful that the small community here did not let me feel that I was a newcomer. Our co-operation is very satisfactory indeed, and that is so essential for the success of our Hospital.

The number of patients, which showed a decline towards the end of last year, is increasing again, and we often don't know how to clothe them. The war makes everything worse, because we have either not enough money to order the most urgent materials, or we have to wait months till we receive the supplies, and then only small amounts of what we order.

There is shortage of materials, and there is shortage of labour. Two sisters, Miss Skinner and Miss Simmonds have the supervision of the native nurses and of the management of the patients. In addition, they give lectures to the nurses, they run the dispensary and they take X-rays. That is too much work, and we hope to have an addition to the staff soon.

G. KLOECKNER.

General Report.

JJANE FURSE HOSPITAL has encountered many difficulties in the past, and by God's help, in answer to the prayers of its many friends, has surmounted them. It is at present very much alive, and is increasing its usefulness year by year.

The year 1939 has not been without its difficulties. The Matron has written about one of them, viz., the tremendous strain upon its staff and resources which the malaria outbreak imposed upon them.

The other shock was the almost sudden death of Dr. Stanford, our much loved physician and surgeon.

There can be no doubt that his general health was undermined by overwork during the scourge, and this broke his resistance to the meningitis germ which killed him. He was a good and faithful servant and a "beloved physician," like St. Luke, on whose day he was taken from us. God rest his soul.

He has been succeeded by Dr. Kloeckner, who has thrown himself whole-heartedly into the work and is fast gaining the confidence of the Native people.

Staff.—Our Matron, Miss Ethel Skinner, who came to our help in an emergency last year, has decided to stay, for which we are devoutly thankful.

Sister Simmonds is our Ward Sister, and we have 14 Probationer Native Nurses and two qualified Native Nurses. One of these latter, Miss Sophina Makena, has been with us for many years and is invaluable. Their tasks are varied. Besides the exacting ward work, they go out in small groups with the Doctor to outlying clinics, starting on the ambulance lorry in the morning and sometimes returning late at night with patients from the clinics. They sometimes have the adventure of a night out in summer when the roads are bad and the rivers in flood. They seem thoroughly to enjoy the experience!

Estate Manager.—He writes a report of his own, but there is something which must be said and which he will not say, and that is: he is literally a jack-of-all-trades, and a master of many. He is a carpenter, builder, engineer, mechanic and farmer. He is a god-send in the Mission field. The X-Ray apparatus has been giving trouble, and he has just reported that in taking it to pieces he found a hornets nest inside which was the cause of the trouble.

Water Supply.—Since the installation by the Native Affairs Department of a pumping engine and a large concrete tank, we have had no difficulty about water. We could do with a great deal more and still have to be very careful in its use for only necessary purposes. But we are for the present free from past anxieties. The Laundry, which was a great consumer, is now moved to Schoonoord where water is more plentiful. Unfortunately the windmill, which pumps the water when the wind allows and when the engine is not in action, was struck by lightning and half of its vanes were thrown to the ground in a buckled condition. It will cost us about £20 to get it into working order.

W. FRANCIS HILL, C.R.

Matron's Report.

THE year 1939 saw a considerable increase in the number of patients, and consequently in the work of the hospital.

We were very sorry indeed to lose Miss Macaulay and Miss Willetts when they returned to England. They were indefatigable in helping in every sort of way, from housekeeping to training the nurses in their practical work, and their generosity equalled their energy.

In April, Miss Simmonds arrived to take up the position of Sister. Her long experience of training nurses, both at Home and in this country, makes her, of course, invaluable.

In May and June, the country was visited by the worst malaria epidemic for years. "Jane's" capacity and resources were taxed to the utmost. We filled all the beds, then we put two, three, even four in a bed. We filled sacks with straw and put them on the floor between the beds. We filled the Labour ward with malaria cases and cast longing eyes at the European ward, but that had to be kept in reserve. So when one night a lorry full of patients arrived from the clinic and every corner was already full, we opened the door of our beautiful new "aseptic" theatre and put them in there. There were no beds, no mattresses even, and no clean clothes. We found some sacks for them to lie on, and a totally inadequate number of blankets to cover them, and they settled down quite happily. Poor things, they had travelled many miles that day, even to get to the clinic; they were cold, hungry and sick, and were thankful for any place to lie down. That night 159 patients slept in this hospital of less than 80 beds.

During this trying time the Native nurses worked hard and cheerfully. The Africans will always rise to an emergency. There are at present 14 probationers in training, and two trained nurses.

One of the most encouraging features of the work at "Jane" is the readiness with which the people come into hospital; even more, their willingness in many cases to leave their children completely alone in our care. It speaks volumes for the sympathetic attitude of our predecessors, and perhaps particularly that of Dr. Stanford, whose death on St. Luke's Day was indeed a grievous blow to the hospital. His amazing patience and sympathy with the people, and his entire devotion to duty made him beloved by all his patients, and was an inspiration to all who had the good fortune to work under him.

In conclusion we wish to thank our friends who help us in many ways: S.P.G. for their wonderful bale to which we look forward every year; the working parties who put in real hard work on our behalf, and the many other friends who help us with their gifts and interest. Please go on.

Our new Sisters' quarters are a great blessing to us. They consist of 6 rooms and stoeps, back and front. They are further removed from the noise and bustle of the Hospital, so that what little rest we are able to get is more undisturbed than it used to be.

ETHEL SKINNER.

Estate Report, 1939.

I AM glad to report that the estate is beginning to show a great improvement. Our chief aim is to be self-supporting. This year we have planted 22 acres of mealies, kaffir corn and beans, these crops have done well considering the dry season we have had. Chief Frank came to our help and kindly gave us all the manure that we required. The loading and transport of this cost us only 12/- as the manure was close to the Hospital grounds. The cattle will be much better fed this year, as we have provided such winter food as cow-grass and cow-beans.

Trees. — Over 100 apricot and yellow peach trees have been planted; kindly given by Mr. Button, they are making slow but sure progress. Gum trees and jacaranda trees have been planted on the western fence and round the tennis court.

Fencing. — All the fencing has been repaired round the estate and is now standing firm, making the estate safe from outside cattle. We still require two metal grids for our gateways.

Livestock. — The cattle now number 30 head. Ten calves were born this year. We now keep a number of pigs to fatten for lard supply.

Building, etc. — Over 50,000 bricks were made to complete the garage, Sisters' house and Estate Manager's house, one hospital verandah and one or two small rooms. All of these have been completed in the year. Five new lavatories have been built for the patients. The front terrace has been extended 200 feet, making the hospital free from sweeping rain water. Two new french drains have been dug this year and are working very efficiently. The native joiners have been very busy making cupboards and chairs for all these new buildings.

Vegetables. — The garden has now been enlarged and is giving a good supply of fresh vegetables to the hospital.

Milk Supply. — Our cows only produce one-third of the milk required for hospital use. This could be improved by a good pedigree bull.

There still remains much work to be done. We are trying hard to make "Jane" more self-supporting in the next year. If only we are able to buy enough good seed for the land I am sure we shall be able to do this.

We have a very large building programme for the coming year and many improvements still to be done. However, we will do our best to get through all this.

W. H. MIDGLEY,
Estate Manager.

Sekukuniland Mission, 1939.

WE have been trying in our first year to consolidate the work which we found rather than to undertake much in the way of extension. During most of the year there have been Initiation Schools of one kind or another going on roundabout us, and the atmosphere which these schools create is not helpful to the work of evangelization.

It has been a year of watching, praying and learning, rather than a period of visible progress.

The African Priest, Rev. Rufus Mamabolo, has left us on his appointment by the Bishop to new work at Barberton. He was succeeded by the Rev. Levi Phatlane, who was ordained Priest in Advent, and came to us on December 31st. He is a young man of promise, full of cheerfulness and energy, and we hope for great things from him and his wife.

Thanks to a generous and anonymous gift of over £200 we have been able to build two new class rooms at the Jane Furse School, and thus to provide accommodation for our increasing members. We have now 134 children on the Roll, and an excellent Head Master, who holds a Catechist's licence and gives valuable help to the Church work; he is assisted by two other qualified teachers, all of them trained at the Diocesan Training Institution of Grace Dieu.

The class-rooms were formally opened by the Chief Inspector of Schools, and we were honoured by the presence of two Native Commissioners, Mr. Button, of Schoonoord, and Mr. Smithers, of Pokwani. Some neighbouring chiefs were also present, and spoke.

We baptized at Christmas a little blind girl who has been a patient at the Hospital for a long time and who has become a favourite with everyone. We are sending her this week to the Athlone School for the Blind at Fauré, near Cape Town, where she will be trained and cared for until she is old enough to earn her own living.

There is nothing of outstanding interest to report about the work at the out-stations during 1939. Owing to the increase in the number of priests, Marishane was visited nearly every Sunday throughout the year, as well as Tuesday and Thursday each week, while the other stations received a monthly visit. The response to these extra opportunities for Eucharistic worship has in most places been encouraging, though the duty and privilege of making an offering in money or kind at the Mass seems to be a duty entirely unknown to our Christians and which they seem slow to grasp. During the early months of the year the serious outbreak of malaria affected Church attendance very considerably.

The little congregation at Kleinklipput, which is outside the actual Mission District, seems to be the most virile of all the congregations, and is most encouraging.
