

Flat country with Umhlanga Forest and Bush red sandy soil and grassy open spots which are pools in the rainy season

U m h l e n g a

Incoman Simba
 (Quamba-Assinba) (odi cul)

Mabanyin

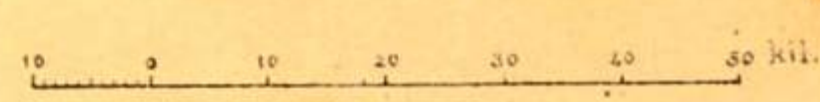

Open Country

T r i b e

It is not uncertain whether the Umlingwa R. gathers all the sources crossed by me, or whether they are divided between the Umhlanga and Inyampalimpali (or Inyampalimpali) both of which are strong perennial streams

Abahlensane
 Very thinly inhabited

ROUTE MAP of the GASA COUNTRY
 by S. Vincent Erskine enlarged to the scale of 1: 1,000,000
 with adjonctions on N-W corner Taken from:
 Jeppe - Map of TRANSVAAL Berthoud - Map of SPELONKEN prepared for the Concil of the Mission romande

Authors Route