

M.R. 100. ①

We, the African women of South Africa, organized and united under the African National Congress Women's League, express our grave concern and distress over the ugly situation which is now developing in the Middle East and Eastern Europe.

We are aware that, such a situation, if allowed to continue, will not only undermine the sovereignty and independence of the countries invaded, but can easily endanger peace in Africa, Asia and throughout the world.

No mother, we know the hardships and destruction involved in war activities, and, therefore, feel that we cannot remain quiet and unconcerned, while there ^{are} indications that events are moving towards another world war.

In the name of peace, we condemn all acts of aggression from whatever country; and demand that an end to force and the restoration of peaceful coexistence of all nations throughout the world.
